

March 2008

Standard Bank International Wealth Management moves to new offices

The International Wealth Management division of Standard Bank in Dubai has moved to new offices.

The new premises, which are located at 979 Al Wasl Road, are more modern and easier to access, enabling Standard Bank to better serve clients.

Nicholas Farah, Standard Bank's Regional Head - Wealth Services, said: "We have been operating from the sixteenth floor of Emirates Towers for the past 5 years; However, we will now be able to offer much better walk-in facilities from a district of Dubai that many of our clients will find easier to get to."

Standard Bank has strong links with South Africa, and Mr Farah said that the move would also enable the bank to forge closer links with Dubai's expanding South African expat community.

"We have a number of locally based private clients, as well as independent financial advisors who market our products and, for those who would like to come and meet us at our offices, we will now be able to welcome them in a more pleasant environment."

Standard Bank's Corporate Banking division will continue to operate from the Emirates Towers offices, as will the International Wealth Management division's administrative support.

The Bank will be hosting a reception to celebrate their move in the near future.

Ends