

New Boardwalk at Wildlife Park

Bankers walk on the wild side!

Directors of Standard Bank recently attended the official opening of the Standard Bank Boardwalk, the newest attraction at the Island's Wildlife Park.

The boardwalk, located in the "Africa" area of the park, will afford visitors excellent views of the lemurs, who now have a dedicated island enclosure to roam around.

Pictured performing the official opening of the boardwalk are Clive Walsh and John Coyle of Standard Bank, together with Geoff Corkish, Minister within the Department of Tourism and Leisure and Tina Hampton of the Wildlife Park.

John Coyle, Managing Director of Standard Bank Isle of Man said "We are absolutely thrilled to be associated with the building of the boardwalk through part of the African area of the Wildlife Park, particularly given the African parentage of the Standard Bank Group. As one of the leading financial services employers on the Island, we are also very proud to play a role in further enhancing the enjoyment that Island residents and visitors alike experience when visiting one of the Island's best-loved tourist attractions".
